Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-8, drawn to a method of spunbonding a nonwoven web, classified in class 156, subclass 167.
 - II. Claims 9-28, drawn to a device for spunbonding a nonwoven web, classified in class 156, subclass 433.
 - III. Claim 29, drawn to a spunbonded web, classified in class 442, subclass 410.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus as claimed could be used in another and materially different process such as one of meltblowing wherein high air flow was used to break the filaments into discrete short length filaments with the air nozzles (as opposed to using the device to redirect the strands with the air to facilitate placement and/or attenuation of the same). Additionally, the process could be practiced with another and materially different apparatus such as one which fed the filaments at an angle to the deposition surface and employed only a single deflecting air nozzle to periodically deflect the filaments in the operation.
3. Inventions I and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be manufactured by another and materially different process such as one which employed electrostatic forces to deflect the filaments back and forth in a similar manner to the air flow additionally, one could have utilized mechanical deflecting means to deflect the filaments back and forth in the fashion claimed thereby producing the same product with a materially different process.

4. Inventions II and III are related as apparatus and product made. The inventions in this relationship are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the apparatus as claimed is not an obvious apparatus for making the product and the apparatus can be used for making a different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different apparatus (MPEP § 806.05(g)). In this case the product as claimed could be manufactured by another and materially different apparatus such as one which employed mechanical deflectors or electrostatic deflection of the filaments in the process line rather than the use of air for deflection.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. A telephone call was made to Richard Mayer (unavailable via telephone on 9-2-03) on 9-2-03 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
